12 Stunning Locations for a Hollywood-Worthy Honeymoon

And the award for best honeymoon destination goes to...

By Rosie Bell | Published on 07/29/21

Awards season may be over but a Hollywood-worthy honeymoon will always be in vogue. Invite some silver screen magic into your honeymoon with these destinations you drooled over in your favorite films.

From a slender Central American gem visited by James Bond where you can touch the Caribbean Sea and the Pacific Ocean on the same day (Panama) to the Indonesian island that brought Eat Pray Love's Elizabeth Gilbert back to life (Bali), these 12 locations are ready for their close up.

The current outbreak of coronavirus (COVID-19) has been declared a pandemic by the World Health Organization. As the situation remains fluid, we'll be sharing tips and stories from industry experts to give you of-the-moment advice and help you navigate wedding planning today. For the most up-to-date guidelines and latest on travel restrictions and requirements, check the CDC and U.S. Department of State websites.

02 Puerto Vallarta, Mexico

of 12

Back in the 1960s, screen icons Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton made Puerto Vallarta their home, which subsequently catapulted it into a must-visit destination for the glitterati. Arguably one of the most famous couples in the world, they fell for each other while filming Cleopatra and then fell madly in love with Puerto Vallarta where Burton was filming the 1964 drama Night of the Iguana.

To start your very own love affair with this Pacific coastal city, stroll along the Malecón beach boardwalk and traipse through the appropriately-named Romantic Zone where the air is perfumed with bougainvillea, or steal kisses under the El Salto waterfall, and lodge at former palm tree plantation. If you like the idea of swimming in the largest swimming pool the city has to offer, a sea turtle rescue program, award-winning restaurants, and a 22,000-square-foot spa, then the Marriott Puerto Vallarta Resort & Spa is an idyllic location worthy of your epic romance.
