If you're looking to relax and recharge this winter, look no further than a sunny escape at the pristine Hotel Californian in charming Santa Barbara. Perfectly situated a stone's throw from the beach in the famed Funk Zone, the 121-room boutique hotel oozes designer elegance thanks to its striking decor by Martyn Lawrence Bullard. The notable designer counts Kourtney Kardashian, Kylie Jenner, Cher, and The Osbournes among his famous clients, so it's no wonder that every detail at this property is perfectly appointed with Moorish-inspired furnishings that feel both glamorous yet grounded in history.

After all, the elegant yet inviting property is perfectly situated in town and revered for not only its stately Spanish Colonial Revival architecture but also its picturesque views of the California coastline and Santa Ynez mountains. The property is bursting with friendly hospitality and inspiring ways to relax at every touchpoint.

To note, there's the Moroccan-inspired Majorelle Spa, which is a dazzling masterpiece of blue-and-white geometric tiled majesty complete with four treatment rooms and innovative wellness offerings that promise to nurture your mind, body, and soul. A hotel highlight is Recharging in Retrograde, a new luxury experience designed to help guests find their footing during Mercury Retrograde periods throughout the year. The unique and trend-driven package includes a chakra meditation massage, custom aromatherapy consultation, late checkout (for added self-care time), and nightly turndown service amenities that include yoga pose recommendations and inspirational notes to ground yourself before bedtime. The entire experience is rejuvenating from the inside out and the perfect way to reset when the planets are out to play.

We also have to give major kudos to this property for shaking up its programming with not only timely spa and wellness offerings, but other lively social events throughout the year like Caviar and Bubbles (a private wine and caviar pairing experience held at The Society: State and Mason), winemaker dinners, cocktail mixers, complimentary fitness classes on the rooftop, and summer sunset celebrations (complete with a DJ), to name a few.

And in true SoCal form, Hotel Californian also offers an inviting rooftop pool with ocean views, delectable dining options, complimentary bikes, and stunning guest rooms that will entice you to extend your stay just a little bit longer. Pro tip: If you're looking to book the nicest option available, simply ask for the two-bedroom Alcazar Suite, which is a favorite among celebrity guests including John Mayer, Michael Keaton, RuPaul, and Miley Cyrus.

Book an unforgettable stay at Hotel Californian and revel in refined luxury with a sunkissed twist.
