Restaurants

Ayatana – Guests embark on immersive Thai culinary journeys that gracefully unfold within the warm contemporary embrace of this luxury restaurant. Ayatana invites guests to partake in mindful and authentic experiences that honor tradition and local producers. Each culinary voyage draws inspiration from the Shojin Ryori philosophy, offering a genuine connection to seasonal ingredients and sustainability.

Kōyō – With an exclusive and interactive Chef's Table, this restaurant embodies the essence of its name, meaning "autumn leaves" in Japanese. Kōyō sources the freshest seasonal produce exclusively from the revered Kansai region. Inspired by the ancient calendar of 24 micro-seasons in Japan, each meticulously crafted dish unveils a symphony of flavors that pay homage to the relationship between nature and community.

Kati – Visitors will delight in this culinary sanctuary, where traditional Thai and Japanese flavors are celebrated through a tapestry of local, regional, and global cuisines. From morning to evening, Kati focuses on fresh, sustainably sourced ingredients.

The Gallery – Timeless elegance meets the art of tea at this lounge. Nestled within the heart of Dusit Thani Kyoto, the signature afternoon tea experience offers a haven of tranquility and sophistication, inviting guests on a captivating journey with exquisite flavors.

Den Kyoto – A funky social bar welcomes night owls to the pulsating sounds of upbeat music at Den Kyoto, offering an exquisite array of bespoke, spirit-forward libations and rare spirits, perfectly paired with tantalizing bites that elevate the adventure.
